FOUNDING AND PASTORAL LEADERSHIP

Rev. Dr David Antwi is the Head Pastor and Founding Visionary of Kharis Ministries, a multifaceted Christian ministry headquartered in London, United Kingdom. Together with his wife, Rev. Awo Antwi, he founded Kharis in 2003. Their shared work has centred on building a church family in which believers can be taught, discipled, prayed for, equipped for service and encouraged to live as faithful witnesses of Jesus Christ.

From the beginning, Dr Antwi's ministry has been marked by a conviction that the local church should be a place of both spiritual encounter and development.

TEACHING, FORMATION AND SERVICE

At the heart of Dr Antwi's public ministry is a desire to see people become established in their faith rather than remain dependent on momentary inspiration. His teaching calls believers to understand what Scripture says, to allow the truth of God's Word to shape conviction and character, and to express faith through obedience, prayer, service and witness. This concern extends to the health of the wider Church.

Through Kharis Phase Two, Dr David and Rev. Awo Antwi have also invested deliberately in students and young adults. Whether addressing a local congregation, a gathering of young adults, pastors and leaders, or an international conference, Dr Antwi's aim remains consistent: to make Christ known, to let Scripture speak clearly and to help the Church become stronger through believers whose lives are formed by the Word of God.

> His ministry is best understood not as the promotion of a personality, but as a pastoral commitment to Christ, Scripture, discipleship and the enduring work of the local church.

Ministry Calling and Teaching Philosophy

The Word is not only to be heard. It is to be understood, believed, obeyed and lived.

A MINISTRY CENTRED ON THE WORD

Dr Antwi's teaching seeks to hold together three convictions: Scripture must be handled faithfully; Christ must remain central; and the truth of God must produce mature Christian lives. The aim is not information alone, but formation—belief becoming character, worship, discernment, service and mission.

BIBLICAL TEACHING

Helping believers understand Scripture and develop a reliable foundation for Christian belief and practice.

DISCIPLESHIP

Moving beyond attendance towards spiritual maturity, obedience, responsibility and a life of following Christ.

CHURCH STRENGTHENING

Building healthy local churches through faithful teaching, capable leadership, pastoral care and service.

PRAYER AND SPIRITUAL LIFE

Cultivating dependence on God, spiritual expectancy and a life shaped by communion with Him.

EVANGELISM AND MISSION

Equipping believers to communicate the Gospel and embody Christian witness in their communities.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Raising men and women who can serve, teach, lead and disciple others faithfully and responsibly.

> — DR DAVID ANTWI'S TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

Kharis Ministries

A church family with a shared vision: London-rooted, multi-location and committed to the formation of believers.

FOUNDED TOGETHER IN 2003

Dr David and Rev. Awo Antwi founded Kharis with a shared desire to see believers established in the faith and local churches strengthened. That founding burden continues to shape the ministry's teaching, worship, prayer, pastoral life, evangelism and leadership development.

Kharis is best understood as a church family rather than simply a programme platform. Its ministry life is expressed through local congregations, discipleship relationships, prayer, service teams, fellowship, outreach and intentional investment in the next generation.

Kharis Church

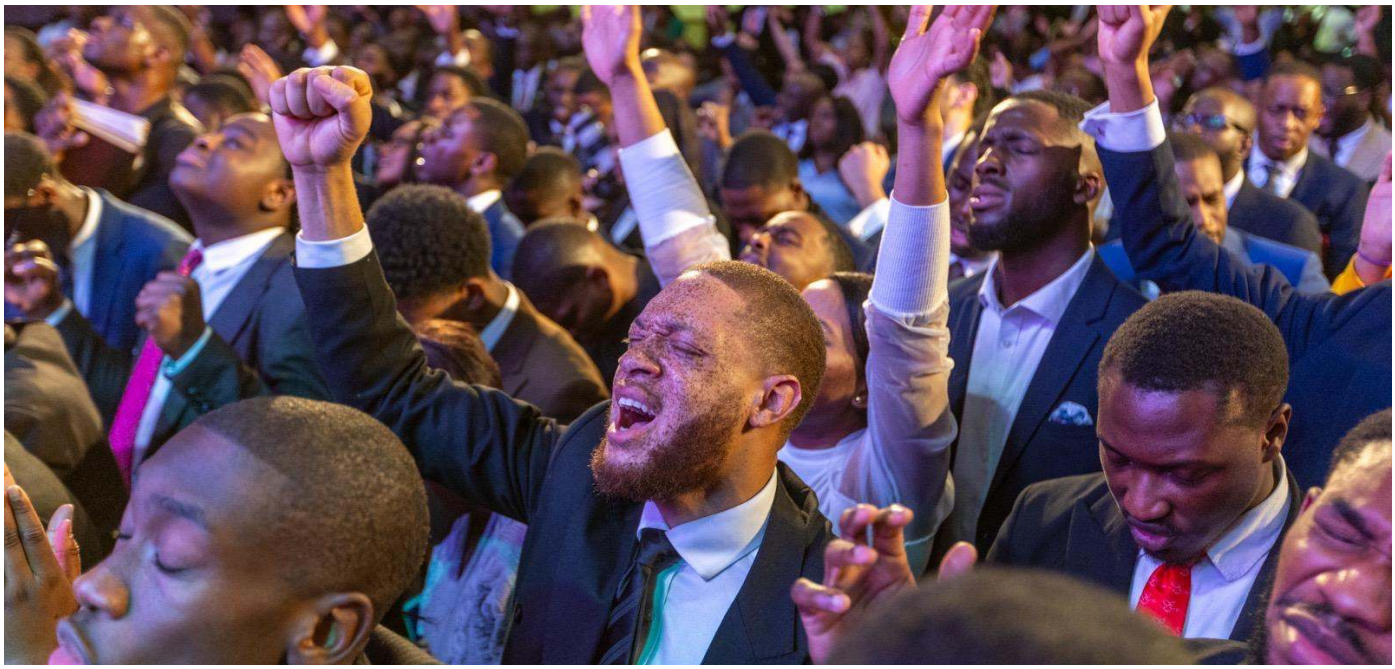
The local church in practice: a community where believers are settled, serving, growing and being formed for mission.



WORD, WORSHIP AND PRAYER

The preaching and teaching of Scripture provide the doctrinal and pastoral foundation of Kharis Church. Services are intended to help believers hear the Word clearly, respond in worship and prayer, and grow in confidence that God remains active in the life of His Church.

The ministry combines deep biblical truth with a vibrant expectation of the Spirit. Dr Antwi consistently presents sound teaching, dependence on the Holy Spirit and practical Christian obedience as belonging together.

DISCIPLESHIP, FELLOWSHIP AND SERVICE

Church life extends beyond the main service. Believers are encouraged to become settled in a local congregation, build meaningful Christian relationships, serve through ministry teams and grow through prayer, fellowship and discipleship — producing Christians who increasingly take responsibility for their spiritual growth, care for others and represent Christ in society.

A SPIRIT-FILLED, REVIVAL-SEEKING CHURCH

Kharis Phase Two is the student and young-adult expression of Kharis. Led by Rev. Dr David Antwi, KP2 seeks to see young people living with a genuine passion for Jesus — unashamed of the Gospel, grounded in the Word and active in Christian service.

Its gatherings combine biblical teaching, energetic worship, prayer, fellowship and opportunities for young adults to take responsibility. The objective is not simply to create youth-oriented services, but to form durable disciples and emerging leaders. Regular events include annual camp, praise night, sports day and Bring a Soul Sunday.

A MINISTRY POSTURE OF SERVICE

Dr Antwi's public ministry is rooted in the life of Kharis, but it is not confined to Kharis. Invitations to preach, teach and participate in Christian gatherings reflect a desire to serve believers and leaders across church traditions while keeping Scripture, Christ and the health of the local church at the centre.

This wider ministry is approached as service rather than status. The value of an engagement is not measured simply by the size or profile of the platform, but by whether the Word is faithfully communicated and the Church is strengthened.
